CEFR LEVELS

The Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) was developed in Europe to create standardized levels for language exams across the world.

STARTERS: Knows the alphabet and sounds of the language. Can understand first words, basic emergency questions and how to respond to simple phrases and questions.

A1: Can understand and use familiar everyday phrases. Can introduce himself/herself and others, can ask and answer questions about personal details. Can understand and respond to simple messages.

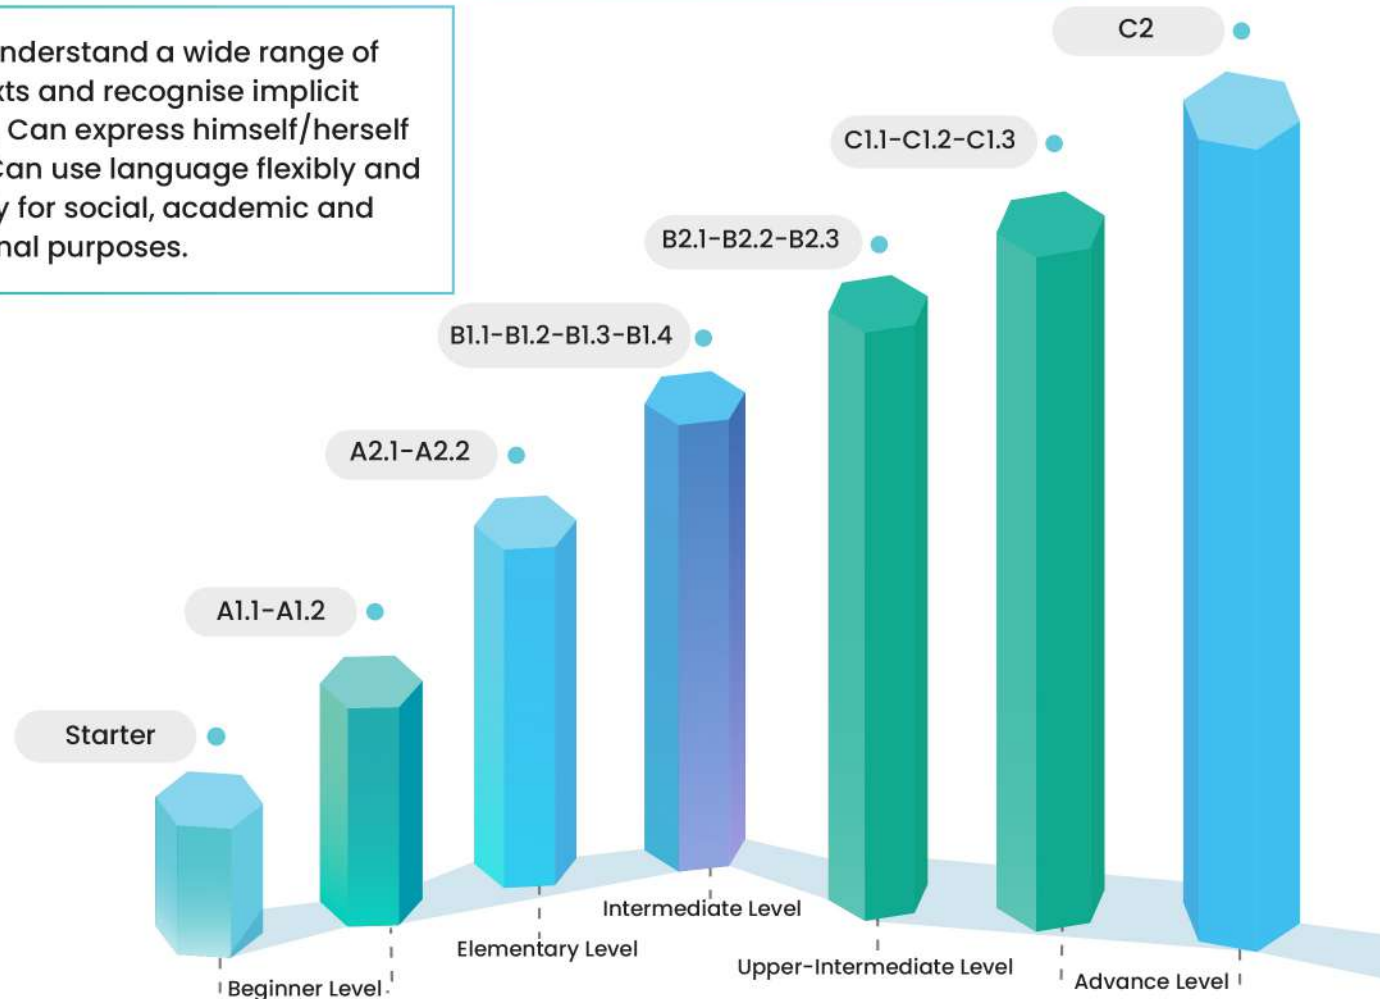

A2: Can understand sentences and frequently used expressions. Can describe in simple terms aspects of his/her background and immediate environment.

B1: Can understand the main points of a conversation (about work, school, leisure, during travels, etc). Can produce simple connected text. Can describe experiences and produce explanations for opinions and plans.

B2: Can understand the main ideas of complex text on both concrete and abstract topics. Can interact with a degree of fluency and spontaneity with native speakers.

C1: Can understand a wide range of longer texts and recognise implicit meaning. Can express himself/herself fluently. Can use language flexibly and effectively for social, academic and professional purposes.

C2: Can understand with ease virtually everything heard or read. Can express himself/herself very fluently and precisely, even in the most complex situations.

INTERNATIONAL EXAM PREPARATION

Is the language proficiency exam in German offered by the Goethe-Institute corresponding to the levels of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) and range from level A1 for beginners to C2 for the most advanced language learners.

These exams are conducted by Max Mueller Bhavan in India that is the situated in 6 cities Mumbai, New Delhi, Kolkata, Ahmedabad, Pune and Chennai. These proficiency certificates are valid for a lifetime. They are accepted for all official purposes such as Student Visa, Work Visa etc.

At The Language Network, the course modules and pedagogy align with Goethe-Zertifikat for candidates to get certified and empower their lives through career guidance and job consultation.

WHY LEARN GERMAN?

German is spoken by more than 120 million people in Austria, Germany, Liechtenstein, Luxembourg, Switzerland and in parts of Belgium, Northern Italy and Eastern France. It is a key language in the European Union and the new economies of Central and Eastern Europe. Even abroad, the German language seems to be in great demand. In addition, German belongs to the ten most popular languages in the world and that is why they also got an entry in the Guinness Book of World Records of 2006.

German and English have more in common than you might think. Words like “Kindergarten” or “Strudel” for example, mean the same in English and German. But there are some words that are a bit tricky. Those words are called false friends: words that are similar in the German and English language, but mean something different.

In the world's largest and strongest economic area, the European Union, German is by far the most spoken native language. Knowing German creates business opportunities. Germans are innovators. India is one of their growing markets and the reason why German is in demand and will continue to be.

WHAT ARE THE OPPORTUNITIES FOR GERMAN LEARNERS?

1. If you have a flair for teaching, you can try as a German teacher in School, Lecturer in Colleges and Universities, Corporate trainer in various enterprises, Online teaching classes, and German faculty in any Institute.
2. One of the most attractive career opportunities you can secure as a German language learner is translation and interpretation. If you are proficient in your translation and interpretation skills, translation service providers will be eager to snap you up once they see your CV.
3. Germans are world leaders in engineering. Almost everyone in Germany – who is skilled and willing to work – has work today.
4. With roughly 10% of all global travel, Germans are the most widespread travelers. You can work as a tour guide for German-speaking tourists, especially if you are the type that loves the outdoors.
5. Apart from working as a tour guide, you can also benefit from working in one of the many hospitality management centers. You can work as an executive in the guest relations department of travel companies, large hotels, event centers, and more. The sector is always in search of the best minds.
6. Who says you have to spend a fortune to get a decent education? Tuition is free in most universities. Some institutions charge around €500 a semester. And there's no sacrifice in quality that comes with that. Many German universities are in the world's top 100.
