FRENCH B1

The French language belongs to the group of romance languages like Spanish, Italian, Portuguese, etc. French is the second most-studied foreign language in the world, after English and it is an official, co-official, or de facto national language of 32 countries. French is the only official language of France.

However, France has several tongues that are native to its lands. These languages are often referred to as patois (a regional form, i.e., dialects, mainly French). Breton, Alsatian, French Flemish, Lorraine Franconian, Langues d'oïl, Occitan, Franco-Provençal, Corsican, Gallo Italic are some of the dialects in French. All these languages/dialects are also referred to as mixed languages.

There is also an Indian French spoken by Indians in former colonies of Mahe, Pondicherry, Karaikal, Chandernagore, and Yanam in Southern India.

The future of the French language in India is bright. Once you master it, you can learn any other French accent and dialects around the world.
