

JAPANESE N5

Why learn JAPANESE?

Japanese is the national language of Japan spoken by more than 124 million people, which is the 6th largest speaking population in the world. Other than Japan, some states in Republic of Palau speak Japanese as common language, and people in some part of Brazil uses Japanese due to the migration from Japan.

Japanese is the official language of Japan. All education, media, business, and government are conducted in Japanese. Although Japan is a relatively small country, it has a surprisingly large number of dialects differing from each other in pronunciation, grammar and vocabulary. Many of them are mutually unintelligible. They are usually divided into two major groups: Eastern Japanese and Western Japanese.

Japanese people give weight to the politeness and formality, Japanese language has an comprehensive grammatical system to express them. In Japanese language, there are three forms to express politeness and formality. It depends on the differing levels of social status to use each form. The social status are determined by a variety of factors including job, age, experience, or psychological state (e.g., a person asking a favour tends to do so politely).

We at TLN help you master the language and its nuances.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR JAPANESE LEARNERS

1. Japan is one of the famous study abroad destinations for Indian students who want to venture overseas. The Japanese people always respect learning and support, sharing their language and customs with international students and visitors.
2. Japan is among the most influential investors in India. It is a powerhouse in many sectors of the global economy. The Japanese language can boost your professional value.
3. Translation and interpretation are some of the most famous career choices for people that speak Japanese. Many companies in the private and public sectors require these services.
4. As a Japanese language speaker in India, you can apply to work as a trainer for any Japanese company to train potential candidates for an outstanding opportunity.
5. In India, some BPOs deal with Japanese clients, and they are always on the look for a candidate who can render them language support services. Your fluency in Japanese can give you a job in BPO and KPO.
6. Indian Government entities like External Affairs Ministry, Indian Embassy in foreign countries, Ministry of Tourism, and other Ministries like Education, Commerce, Science & Technology, Agriculture, Textile require Japanese language experts.
7. If you're looking for careers involving languages and travel, then the broad spectrum of travel, tourism leisure, and hospitality industry is a great option.CV.

JAPANESE N5

INTRODUCTION

Japanese Language Proficiency Test Level N5 is for students who has basic knowledge of writing, reading and listening Japanese Language. At first, one should know Hiragana, katakana and few basic Kanji characters. In JLPT N5 students gain knowledge to use appropriate greetings while working in Japanese culture.

The Language Network teaches and gives practical knowledge of using Japanese greetings, enhancing command on Japanese Language as well as understanding of Japanese Culture through virtual methods such as audio, videos and roleplays.

The Language Network, prepares students to achieving confidence in:

- Basic Writing, Reading & Listening Japanese Language
- Hiragana, Katakana and few basic Kanji Characters
- Practical knowledge of using Japanese greetings
- Understanding of Japanese Culture through virtual methods such as audios, videos and role-plays.
- Basic and Daily uses of Japanese Vocabulary & Grammar

JAPANESE N5

VOCABULARY

JLPT N5 is the basic level of Japanese language proficiency test. It includes basic and daily use vocabulary. The Language Network provides books for Vocabulary and keeps the follow up with taking test regularly. JLPT N5 Vocabulary has approximately 800-900 words. But JLPT N5 vocabulary covers daily greetings in Japanese language, daily basic conversation, etc. Hence, this helps students more to do easy stay in Japan.

LISTENING

So far, the listening for Japanese language proficiency test (JLPT) N5 is concerned- students should know the basic N5 vocabulary and N5 grammar. Also, the greetings and etiquette in Japanese Language plays important role. At The Language Network, students do Japanese listening practice every day in their Japanese language classes. Every class JLPT listening practice makes students proficient and helps student to have excellent understanding in listening & speaking both.

JAPANESE N5

GRAMMAR

JLPT N5 has basic grammar understandings. If basic Japanese language grammar understandings is considered, it has basic grammar short sentence compositions and includes approximately 70-80 Japanese language grammar patterns. The Language Network in Mumbai teaches and explains grammar in most easy and innovative methods. Also, makes students to do the sentence making by their own in Japanese language.

The Language Network provides a grammar practice book for JLPT N5 separately so that they can do the self-practice on their own. The JLPT N5 grammar book has example questions and provided the practice options in similar exampled way. Hence, basic Japanese language course students can achieve good understanding on Grammar composition in Japanese language.

FOR REGISTRATIONS

+91 9821392630

info@thelanguagenetwork.co

The Language Network

thelanguagenetwork

www.thelanguagenetwork.co